ANOTHER ENTERPRISE.

Atkins, Ogden & Co., of Milwaukee, Desire to Locate in Janesville.

A Preliminary Meeting at the Grand Hotel Last Evening to Consider the Matter.

The spacious parlors of the Grand hotel were filled last evening with representative business men invited at a late hour yesterday afternoon, by Dr. Henry Palmer, and by President Hiram Merrill of the Business Men's Association. The object of this informal gathering was to meet Mr. Atkins, of Milwaukee, that gentleman having telegraphed Dr. Palmer at five o'clock yesterday, that he would be here in the evening.

Mr. Atkins represents the old boot and shoe manufacturers, Atkins, Ogden & Co., who were recently barred out in Milwaukee. The business was established by Mr. Atkins' father in 1848, and has been successfully continued from that date. At the time of the fire about one hundred hands were employed.

Dr. Palmer, in the interests of the Wisconsin Shoe Co., has been in correspondence with the firm, with a view to induce them to reopen the factory on South Main street. The meeting last evening was to see if anything can be accomplished in this direction. Mr. Atkins stated that St. Paul and other cities had offered liberal inducements and that Milwaukee was also making an effort to retain them.

Mr. Atkins was favorably impressed with Janesville, and the facilities for shipping the various railroads afforded. The meeting being an informal one, nothing more than an exchange of views was had on the possibility of the firm removing to this city.

Negotiations are now pending with the firm of Atkins, Ogden & Co., and also with other parties, for the purpose of again starting up the business at the Wisconsin Shoe Co. plant.

Mr. Thomas, of South Hansen, Massachusetts, is in the city to-day with a view to locate here. Mr. Thomas is a manufacturer of shoes and desires to come west on account of trade. He has had offers from Nebraska, but is favorably impressed with Janesville and if the citizens will pay his moving expenses and furnish him a building and power he might be induced to locate here. Some of our business men have been showing him around the city to-day. The business is worth investigating as the bonus is not large.

AMERICAN ODD FELLOWSHIP.

The Celebration of the Sixty-Ninth Anniversary at the Armory Last Evening.

An Interesting Musical and Literary Entertainment, Concluding with a Social Dance.

The Armory presented a beautiful scene last evening, the occasion being the celebration of the sixty-ninth anniversary of the establishment of Odd Fellowship in America. The large hall was appropriately and handsomely decorated, and between eight hundred and one thousand people—ladies and gentlemen, with a number of children—were present to listen to the interesting programme which had been prepared for the occasion by the local committee. The entertainment was under the supervision of the Rock County Odd Fellows Association, an organization composed of all the Odd Fellows lodges in Rock county.

Mr. James A. Fathers, the retiring

president of the county organization, presided at the entertainment last evening, and after an overture by Smith's orchestra, and the singing of the "Opening Ode" by a quartette consisting of Messrs Geo. Paris, C. N. Vankirk, Geo. K. Colburn and Clarence L. Clark, explaining some of the excellent points of Odd Fellowship.

Ladies, Gentlemen and Brother Odd

Fellows, by the programme the committee have set me down for an introductory address. What their purpose was I do not know; certainly they did not consult me in the matter. But my rate, my friends, are assembled here this evening for the purpose of celebrating, fittingly the sixty-ninth anniversary of American Odd Fellowship under the auspices of the Rock County Odd Fellows Association.

This association is but two years old,

this being the second anniversary exercises held by the association, and from present indications it would seem to me that the success of the association as a whole, will be longer than to bring to your notice some of the facts relating to Odd Fellowship, as found in our last reports.

We, as Odd Fellows, are a band of people

joined together by mutual ties of love, benevolence and charity, and the motto of our order is over our watchword, "What do we seek, to relieve the distressed, to visit the sick, to comfort the orphan, to bury the dead, and to educate the orphan."

Sixty-nine years ago to-day the pendent Order of Odd Fellows was started in the city of New York, and to-day it numbers over 500,000 members in good standing. A phenomenal increase in the short period of sixty-nine years—it is less than the time allotted for man to live.

But some may ask: What brought this monstrous increase? Why, it was the grand principle that are taught within the Order, and the record, as a benevolent and charitable association, is something over $5,000,000, paying for the relief of its members something over $2,000,000 annually, and from that statement we base our claim for benevolence second to no other institution in the world.

And now, in conclusion, I would say

to those who are not members of our order, to come and join us; and to our married ladies, whose husbands are not members, see to it that they are not. I will not detain you longer than to say to you who have sweethearts—see to it that you will find that it will tend to make him a better husband and father than he possibly could have been had he not been one of those Odd Fellows. Its portals are open to all white male persons between the ages of twenty-one and thirty, and we look to the coming of the day when all mankind shall be brought into our brotherhood, and that day can be better described in the language of the poet who once said:

No more shall nations against nations rise,
No more shall wars and battles scourge the
No more shall plagues and pestilence befall,
No more shall famine and pestilence befall,
No more shall wars and battles scourge the
No more shall plagues and pestilence befall,
No more shall famine and pestilence befall,
No more shall wars and battles scourge the
No more shall plagues and pestilence befall,
No more shall famine and pestilence befall,

THE BEAVER AND LIGHTHOUSE TRAILS

controversy.

This morning W. G. Wheeler called the circuit court criminal calendar, but without any notable developments.

The case of the State against Jared D. Hall was left temporarily without being settled.

The Beaver and Lighthouse cases were announced not to be for trial at the present term.

In the Stevens divorce case permission was given for the withdrawal of the defendant's answer.

Arguments in the case of Fathers against Grey are now being heard.

BECK'S FATHER APPEARS.

The Spring Valley Young Men's Outing Club.

William Beck is no longer one of Sheriff Ward's boarders. His father came down from the northern part of the state yesterday afternoon. He brought with him the seven hundred dollars which were required as security for his son's appearance.

Young Beck's trial on the charge of arson will be begun in the municipal court to-morrow.

FEARS FROM THE PRESS.

Two of E. P. Reed's later works, "Found yet Lost" and "An Original Fella," have just been published by Dodd, Mead & Co. in book form. The last named story which has to do with New York life during the war and especially at the time of the draft riot makes up the March number of "The Library of Fiction" which is to be published hereafter, quarterly at twenty-five cents a copy.

E. P. Reed's stories are remarkable for their life, spirit, originality and dramatic interest. The characters are portrayed with a faithfulness and a depth of color that make them real flesh and blood. The publication of these two later works in popular form should meet with success.

THE WEATHER.

At seven o'clock this morning the thermometer indicated 61 degrees above zero. Clear with south wind.

At one o'clock p. m. the register was 80 degrees above zero. Partly cloudy with south wind. For the corresponding hours one year ago the register was 40 and 66 degrees above zero.
